

The dangers of media consolidation are evident in Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. The nation's airwaves are to be used for the public good, not for presenting partisan propaganda in the guise of "news". We need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Sinclair's actions show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. This is a very serious matter. Thank you.
